IT APPEARS THE REPUBLICANS MAY LOSE THIS YEAR.

Former Committeeman Declares That Working Men and Employers Are More Than Satisfied With Present Conditions.

Notwithstanding Utah was one of the only two states carried by the regular Republicans in 1912, and therefore is held up as a shining light of the loyalty of the Republican organization in the state, William R. Wallace, who until recently was the Democratic national committeeman for Utah, refuses to concede the state to the Republicans in the coming election. He contends that the president ought to have carried Utah in the last national election and that he has a first class chance to get the electoral vote this time.

"Senator Smoot, one of the big Republican leaders of I'tah and of the Nation, and his coherts control 60 per cent of the voting strength of Utah. but, nevertheless, the Utah senator was lying awake for several nights after the election in 1912, fearing that the state had gone Democratic. The Republicans won by only 3,000 in a total vote of more than 100,000. This time, I firmly believe, we will put up even a better fight. Senator Sutherland is going to have some determined opposition, and he may be beaten.

'How are you going to convince workingmen that they ought to change administrations when they are getting better wages than they ever received and are working overtime! How are you going to courince employers that they eaght to change when they are getting more for their products than ever in their homory's Hopper 18bringing a higher price than at any time since we started to mine and we have the largest copper mine in the and sugar commanding a top figure."

Getting to Know the President

President: Wilnut has been coming closer and choser to the American perple in the past few months. His westbeen side of his rature to the great | ed to have said Mississippl valler it was not a pohis own concerns in his sense of a when you're driven out of the busigreat need and his enthusiasm for a ness. I can count on the fingers of great movement. The impression made one hand all of yes who are really by his direct, forceful, informal talks | making more than wages. The browon that hour was great.

But that is not the foint. The people need to know, not the president's thinking, the temper of the man. Linmin's stories were good stories but they had a value at the time of the telling which went far beyond their iljustrative relation to the subjects he discussed. They told the nation not only what Lincoln thought, but how he thought: they passed like an electric spark between him and millions.

Such talks bely the people to get acquainted with the president. And the sense of acquaintanceship, while PRACTICAL RESULT IN RUSSIA. not listed by the books of noticinal science as a factor in democratic gov- brice of labor in Hussia has gone symment, is an element of priceless in a remarkable manner, says Prof. value.

They thought they knew in past years where Mr. Roosevelt stood, but he was not standing then where he is today on public quesfions.

No Comfort for Republicans.

Mr. Wilson is chiefly responsible for the legislation which curbed the power of Wall street and put a stop to artificial panics for all time. Times were never better than they are at present. Every man who wants to work can find employment at good wages. It is a sure sign of good times when there are labor strikes. And the old cry of "protection for American industries" and "the full dinner pail" will avail the Republicans nothing

THE JUGGLER.

Ladles and Gentlemen: I will now show you how the saloon helps your town financially:

With your kind permission, I shall represent the saloon; Mr. Jones here will represent your town. You see this roll of bills? It contains twenty thousand dollars in cash

(the exact amount of revenue paid by the saloons of your town). You see I now put this twenty thousand dollars down in Mr. Jones' left-hand pocket. Now, I shall give anyone here one hundred dollars in gold who will prove to this audience that Mr. Jones is not exactly twenty thousand dollars richer than he was before. Ah, I see one hundred dollars. What's that? Will I explain how I can afford to be so generous? With pleasure

ne one is feelish enough to claim this

You see, while you were watching me put twenty thousand dollars into Mr Jones left hand pocket I was busy taking this other roll here out of his right hand pocket. Now this larger roll contains two hundred thousand dollars (the amount of money received by the saloens of your town from your citizens every year) And so you see that Mr. Jones, instead of being twenty thousand dollars richer than he was before, is really one hundred and eighty thousand dollars poorer.

Strange you didn't notice that," you Not at all. You see, I made so much fuse about the twenty thousand dollars I was putting into Mr Jones' left-hand pocket that I kept you from seeing me-take the two hundred thousand dollars from his right-hand pock-

WHISKY THE HANDICAP.

A woman visitor was lately in a large hospital, where many soldiers were patients. She noticed especially two men wounded in almost exactly the same way; but while one of them-a small Scotchman-was rapidly recovering, the other, a great brawny man was not doing so well.
